FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Georgia State Senate Honors BlueWave Computing

Summary: The Georgia State Senate recently adopted a resolution recognizing BlueWave Computing, LLC for its role as one of the leading information technology consulting firms in the State of Georgia and for its selection as a Cobb County Small Business of the Year for 2008.

Atlanta, GA 12 MAY 2009 – The Georgia State Senate has adopted a resolution honoring BlueWave Computing. The resolution commends BlueWave for its selection as a Cobb Chamber Small Business of the Year as well as its growth from a small startup to one of the leading information technology firms in the State of Georgia.

Senate Resolution 549, sponsored by senators Judson Hill, Chip Rogers, John Wiles, and Steve Thompson, acknowledges both Dr. Steven Vicinanza, BlueWave's founder, for his vision and leadership, as well as BlueWave, the company, for its "glowing reputation throughout Georgia."

Dr. Vicinanza stated, "It is a great honor to receive this commendation and recognition of our achievements – which I credit completely to our exceptional staff, their capabilities, and their dedication to customer service."

BlueWave Computing has received a number of awards, including begin selected for the INC magazine top 5000 and Catalyst Top 25 Entrepreneurs of Atlanta. Nonetheless, Dr. Vicinanza says "recognition from our state senate is the most significant validation of our mission to date." That mission is to maximize the ability of small businesses to leverage information technology and improve their overall competitiveness through the use of IT.
